

NSO Organizing Committee Job Description

We have vacancies on the Organizing Committee. We are looking for people with experience/background/skills (especially, but not exclusively for staff unions) in the following areas:

- Who have trained and/or attended Organizing for Power;
- Who have training experience in other types of organizing (i.e. community based, relational, political, etc.)
- Exhibit a high level of interpersonal skills and professionalism during training
- Ability to communicate timely and adhere to deadlines
- Who have excellent communication skills, (both externally and internally);

Who are also willing and able to serve NSO & fellow members by:

- Committing to attend 1-2 Committee meetings/per year (2-day meetings)
- Contribute to "off-line" work outside of official committee meetings
- Have a positive attitude and be sometimes willing to "stretch" outside of their comfort zone
- Work with union brothers & sisters from across the country for the best interests of our members.

If you are interested in serving on this committee, please contact the Organizing Committee Chair Edna Jenkins at regionaldirector7@nationalstaff.org by 5:00 p.m. eastern, February 16, 2020.
